

PRESS RELEASE - Two new acquisitions for Pollet Water Group
February 1st 2016

WAREGEM – The Pollet Water Group is proud to announce it has added 2 new companies to its rapidly expanding group. Both acquisitions fit in the strategy of PWG to solidify its position in the water treatment sector. Ferex Limited (trading as Euraqua UK) became a new member of PWG at the end of December 2015. The take-over of Aquina Wassertechnik GmbH in Germany was finalized on February 1st 2016.

Located in Hitchin, North London, Euraqua UK is a leading manufacturer and supplier of specialized water treatment equipment for the commercial and industrial markets within the UK and Ireland. As a result of the acquisition, Euraqua UK will have access to a wider range of products and resources. Euraqua's specialty in designing and manufacturing customized water treatment plants provides a well suited addition to PWG's existing portfolio of products and services and will only enhance the Group's footprint in the UK. Over the last few years, Euraqua UK has seen significant growth in demand for its customized water treatment plant.

Aquina Wassertechnik GmbH based in Maintal (Germany) was added to the group on February 1st. Aquina enjoys an excellent reputation as a leading company active in the distribution of domestic and commercial water treatment components and assembled products. Its excellent geographical location and skilled personnel will enable PWG to grow its market presence in Germany.

PWG, based in Belgium, is a family-run business with operations across Europe, the Middle East and Africa. With more than 25 active companies, PWG specializes in the supply of components and complete systems to providers of water treatment services. The consolidated turn-over of the Pollet Water Group is now approximately € 180 million.

Sofie Pollet, Vice-President of the Pollet Water Group, further commented: "Adding Euraqua UK to our Group strengthens our position in the UK market whereas Aquina Wassertechnik gives us the trading hub in Germany we had been looking for. We look forward to grow both companies in the coming years."
